MAJOR JESSE JONES HONORED WITH SEVENTH ARMY COMMENDATION MEDAL

Major Jesse Jones, Madigan Army Medical Center's Security Officer, receives his seventh Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service from Brigadier General Spencer Reid, Center Commander.

The presentation was made to Maj. Jones for outstanding performance of duty while assigned as a Military Police Battalion Commander in Europe from 1975 to 1977. He was lauded for outstanding law enforcement support for over 21,000 people and for planning and supervising training programs for the 800 man battalion.

As Madigan's Security Officer, Maj. Jones has approached the problems of theft with a strong crime prevention program. Soliciting the Center's staff support, Maj. Jones has held training sessions which encouraged everybody's vigilance to stop crime, particularly theft.

He reviews and initiates security plans for the entire Medical Center. The Major emphasized that the plans must be developed with special attention to being careful not to cause undue delay or restrictions to patient access.

Maj. Jones has been in the Military Police Corps since graduation from Army Officer Candidate School in 1966. He has a bachelor of science degree from the University of Nebraska, and a master's degree in human relations from Webster College in St. Louis. He was born in Fort Worth, Texas ans has made Tacoma his home since 1969.

IRATE EASTSIDE CITIZENS HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION AND RAISE CRITICAL ISSUES

Tac Todo Sept 21 77

The Cloverdale Improvement Association held its annual election on Thursday, September 1, 1977 at the New Hope Baptist Church and the following officers and board members were elected.

President: Mrs. Payton; Vice President: Mr. Marshall; Secretary: Mr. Green; Treasurer: Mr. Hart. Executive Board Chairman: Mr. Jones. Positions: #1, Mrs. Woods; #2 Mr. Chapman; #3, Mr. Van Buren; #4, Mr. Hart; #5 Mr. Garraway; #6, Mrs. Stewart; #7, Mr. Mosley; #8, Mr. Ross; #9, Mr. Scott; #10, Mr. Adams.

Following the election, a number of critical issues and concerns were raised by the members present. A few of the issues, which are to be sequentially brought before the City officials, include public safety, sidewalks on Portland Avenue to ensure the safety of children, inadequate bus transportation to accommodate the many residents desirous of downtown transportation, street cleaning, vacant lots that constitute health hazards as well as being unsightly, and improving Portland Avenue.

JOBS PROGRAM BEGINS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

The Senior Citizen Aid Program, a JOBS program for senior citizens, is now available for seniors who are residents of the City of Tacoma and who meet certain low-income guidelines established by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget.

Forty positions are waiting to be filled. Applicants must be 55 years of age or older and be available to work 20 hours per week. The jobs are funded until June 30th, 1978.

The senior workers hired will be involved in a variety of human services programs designed to aid disadvantaged people with special emphasis on the elderly. All those hired will be employed at work sites in or nearby the community in which they reside. No particular work experience is required. All that is needed is the ability and desire to work helping others.

Senior citizen aides will be paid $2.76 per hour. All interested persons can apply at the downtown Washington State Job Service Center located at 1313 Tacoma Avenue South.

ALEX HALEY FINDS 'ROOTS' IN TOUR OF ISRAEL; SEES PARALLELS IN JEWISH, BLACK EXPERIENCE

Alex Haley Meets Israeli Leader: Alex Haley, author of "Roots", with Israel's Prime Minister Menachem Begin (left) during a recent visit to Israel. Haley presented the Premier with a copy of "Roots" and Mr. Begin reciprocated with an autographed copy of his book on Israel's struggle for independence, "Revolt".

"It stirs my soul to know this story."

That's what Alex Haley, author of "Roots," said in Israel last week when he visited Masada, the fortress above the Dead Sea which was the last stronghold of the Jewish freedom fighters in their revolt against Roman tyranny 2,000 years ago. After holding out for three years against insurmountable odds, the Jews of Masada committed mass suicide rather than live in slavery.

"Among the more moving things that have occured to me in my whole life, I include this visit to Israel -- which will not be my only visit," Mr. Haley said. He completed a ten-day visit to the Jewish state as the guest of Israel's Foreign Ministry.

Mr. Haley, whose prize-winning novel has been translated into 24 languages -- including Hebrew -- was warmly received by Israel's leaders in the arts and by top government officials, including Prime Minister Menachim Begin.

Mr. Haley told his hosts: "The response to the book and to me has been one of the most profound experiences I ever could have. The book speaks to all who have suffered persecution and have been discriminated against.

"The plight of the Jews in history is similar to that of Black Africans who were driven into slavery. Both have proved that by courage and perseverence they can surmount what ever difficulties they encounter," Mr. Haley said.

In Jerusalem, the Black author visited the Martyrs' and Heroes' Memorila (dedicated to the six million Jews exterminated by the Nazis), planted a tree in the special "Alex Haley" section of the Kennedy Forest, and visited the Shrine of the Book, which houses the Dead Sea scrolls.

Mr. Haley met with a member of the Knesset, Israel's parliament; dined with Jerusalem Mayor Teddy Kollek and called on the president of Israel, Ephraim Katzir. He described the president as "a grand old patriarch who spoke with great emotion when describing the roots of Jews and of Israel."

While in Jerusalem, Mr. Haley was also the recipient of an Honorary Fellowship from the Hebrew University. The award described Mr. Haley as "an outstanding literary figure of the contemporary world who has made a contribution to literature and ideas. He is a writer of distinction who has influenced people throughouth the world and has strengthened his people's pride in themselves. Both the Jews and the Black people have suffered cruel discrimination. You, Mr. Haley, are a champion of the cause of freedom."

During a visit to Israel's arid south, Mr. Haley visited the amyors of Arad (a desert development town) and Beersheba, closely associated with the patriarchs Issac and Jacob and Abraham, who gave the town its name.)

The four-day trip to Israel's north gave Mr. Haley an opportunity to visit various holy sites around the Sea of Galilee. He recalled that Henning, Tennessee, the town where he was raised, was a very religious community where much of the life evolved around the churches.

"We were Methodists and every Sunday we went to Sunday school where we heard sermons and stories from the Bible," he told his Israeli hosts. "I heard more about the Sea of Galilee than the Mississippi River, which was nearby. The two major oral historical sources of my life were these stories from the Bible and the stories from my family."

Mr. Haley toured Nazareth and the "Good Fence" on the Lebanese border, where Lebanese Christians cross into Israel to work and to receive medical and agricultural assistance. He also visited a kibbutz (communal settlement) and met with former Premier Golda Meir.

Reflecting upon his visit, Mr. Haley commented: "This has been a most moving and direct exposure to a whole people in serch of their roots, commemorating and finding strength in their roots.

"Israel is a very special country. The real beginnings and the real roots are here."

Three McChord Firemen Win Wild Cow Milking

"The cow ran out of the chute, stopped on the other side of the line and gave us no trouble," said George H. Monaghan of the McChord Fire Department. Monaghan was one of the team members that won this year's wild cow milking contest held last weekend at the Fall Roy Rodeo in Roy, Wash.

The wild cow milking contest is held every year and the base firemen have taken part in this contest since 1972. The three members were George H. Monaghan, William R. Jones and Edward B. Lawson. All three men work on the "B" shift at the fire department.

As the wild cow was released from the chute, George Monaghan and Bill Jones ran the cow down and Ed Lawson milked her and ran across the finish line in winning time of 25.6 seconds.

The men received silver buckles with gold inlay and $11 each for their efforts. "The buckles themselves were better than any kind of prize money they could have given us," said Ed Lawson.

"We wouldn't have missed this rodeo for anything in the world," added George Monaghan.

SEAHAWKS IN ROAD OPENER AT CINCINNATI

The Seattle Seahawks go on the road in the American Football Conference for the first time this week by traveling to Cincinnati.

Seattle and Cincinnati will kickoff at 10 a.m. PDT in Riverfront Stadium before an anticipated sellout crowd. The game will be televised live back to the Seattle area by KING-TV (Channel 5) with Jack Buck and Paul Maguire reporting.

Sunday's contest can also be heard on KIRO Newsradio 71 with Pete Gross, Wayne Cody and Don Heinrich describing the action.

The Seahawks don't exactly figure to get a warm welcome as the Central Division contending Bengals are coming off a 13-3 loss to Cleveland last week in the first home opener defeat in the history of the franchise. Seattle also dropped its opener, a 29-14 loss to Baltimore.

Cincinnati, which finished 10-4 last year but missed the playoffs, finished the pre-season 5-1 but ran into trouble against the Browns. Without fullback Boobie Clark, who missed the game with a knee injury, Cincinnati gained just 104 yards on the ground in 33 rushing attempts after averaging 166.1 during the pre-season.

Former two-time Heisman Trophy winner Archie Griffin led the Bengals in rushing against Cleveland with 36 yards on 18 carries for a 2.0 average and a long run of 11 yards.

Trying to contain Cincinnati's ground game will fall on the Seahawks line which will be reshuffled this week after the loss of defensive tackle, Bill Sandifer. Sandifer, who started every pre-season game and last week's opener at right tackle, suffered a broken fibula against the Colts.

When Sandifer left the game he was replaced inside by Bob Lurtsema. That leaves only Andy Dorris, who was acquired in a trade with the New Orleans Saints earlier this season, as a replacement in the defensive line.

Steve Niehaus, who underwent shoulder surgery in July, is still on the club's active roster, but has not yet resumed practice with the team.

Lurtsema had started the first five pre-season games before rookie Dennis Boyd moved ahead of him at right end. Richard Harris at end and Ron East at tackle continue to start on the left side.

SMALL TALK

THE MATRONS CLUB 1927 - 1977
By Vertist Edwards

Many persons from Olympia, Seattle, and Spokane crowded into the colored women's club house to help the Matrons Club members celebrate their 50th anniversary.

At an afternoon tea, members and past members recounted their experiences with the group of hard working women.

The club is well known for its Spring Scholarship Fashion Show and Luncheon for deserving young Black students entering college, and for the annual Black and White Formal Dance.

Special plaques were presented to the only remaining charter members, Mrs. James (Minnie) Aldrich, the founder, and Mrs. W. P. (Helen) Stafford. Q. I have this fantasy. If my brother-in-law starts talking about his fancy cars once more, I'm going to take scissors and snip off his $30 tie. Just in case I do, I figure that the liability part of my homeowners policy will protect me against any damages. Right?

A. No, no, you are wrong! Your homeowners insurance policy protects you against damage caused by accidents, but not from damage resulting from your intentional acts. Here's one case where acting out a fantasy can cost you money.

AGE DISCRIMINATION CASE SCHEDULED FOR PUBLIC HEARING

An age discrimination case, William Harris versus Paulson's Incorporated, is scheduled for a public hearing before a Hearing Tribunal on September 22 at 9 a.m. in the City Council Chambers. The tribunal will review charges brought against Paulson's alleging violations of the City of Tacoma's law prohibiting age discrimination in employment.

The charges were filed by Harris, 108 Columbia St., on December 22, 1975. Harris claims he was fired from his service manager position after more than 20 years with the company despite a good work record.

A Commission investigation into the alleged complaint found probable cause to believe that Paulson's unlawfully terminated Harris because of his age. Attempts to resolve the dispute and obtain restitution for the complainant by conciliation have failed.

Paulson's denies the charges. They contend that Harris was fired because he was ineffective in his job and resistant to change.

The Commission has recommended that Paulson's reinstate Harris as service manager in good standing without loss of seniority, with full back pay, and will all fringe benefits. It further recommended that Paulson's adopt an affirmative action plan to prevent possible future discrimination.

FIRST BLACK OFFICER TO COMMAND 50TH GENERAL HOSPITAL

Tac Facts Sept 21 77

Colonel James M. Garrison Jr. of 12635 N.E. 6th, Bellevue, has been named commander for the 50th General Hospital of the U.S. Army Reserve at Ft. Lawton, Seattle. He assumed command September 1, succeeding Colonel Henry H. Skinner Jr..

Garrison, chief of OB-GYN service at Group Health Cooperative of Puget Sound, has been with the 50th General for over eight years. Most recently, he has served as chief of professional services, directing the activities of the unit's physicians, dentists, physical therapists, dieticians, and other professionals.

His working knowledge of the 50th General enables Garrison to predict little in the way of sweeping changes under his command.

"Basically, the 50th is a good unit and I hope to maintain it as such. I think I'm lucky to be assuming command of such a well-run unit," he comments.

His military service began in 1950. After four years with the 82nd Airborne Division, Garrison entered Tufts University Medical School in Boston. In 1958, he reenlisted in the Army and completed his internship and residency in obstetrics-gynecology at Madigan General Hospital. After furthe duty overseas and in the U.S., the colonel joined the Army Reserve and was assigned to the 50th General Hospital as chief of surgery.

Garrison holds a diploma from the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology; he is a fellow of the American College of OB-GYN and a clinical associate professor of OB-GYN at the University of Washington Medical School.

Garrison is married and has six children.

THE PANAMA TREATY

The proposed Panama Canal Treaty is stirring ripples fo criticism in various quarters and for reasons that are not altogether similar. On one point, however, there seems to be unanimity. It is that the surrendering of the canal to Panama would endanger the security of the United States.

The other side of the coin is that failure by the Senate to ratify the treaty would stir riots in Panama and would make enemies throughout Latin America.

Aside from the military and diplomatic consequences of the treaty, U.S. blacks should have some sympathy for the black Panamanians who constitute a large percentage of the native population.

Republicans, led by Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, are leading a drive against ratification. Their position is summarized by Representative Robert Bauman of Maryland: "We bought it, we built it. We paid for it. This is ours and President Carter is giving it away."

The cry of colonialism is raised against United States' control of the waterway and Panama. It is precisely this cry which will unify Latin countries into a solid bloc against America.

After 13 years of trying to negotiate a treaty between both countries, there is doubt that enough votes can be rallied to put the new proposal through the Senate. We need to improve our relations with Latin America, not destroy them. RIGHT ON!

Prayer Poem

The famous poet Christopher Wordsworth wrote in 1862 of "those who prepare." He wrote:

Hark! the sound of holy voices
Chanting at the crystal sea,
Alleluia, Alleluia,
Alleluia, Lord, to thee!...
Patriarch, and holy prophet
Who prepared the way for Christ...
Joined in holy concert, singing
To the Lord of all, are there.

Such, too, is our destiny...and our assurance as we also "prepare the way of the Lord." Join with that holy throng this Sabbath... and eveyr week...in your chosen Church.

PENCILS PROVE A POINT

More and more American companies are subscribing to the idea that in trying to make a living you deserve a break no matter what your color, sex or religion.

To create breaks for people, one company has started a Minority Supplier Program. The company, Union Carbide, aims at expanding its purchases from quality minority suppliers. And last year its purchasing agents bought more than a million dollars worth of supplies from such minority-owned companies.

Purchasing personnel at Union Carbide have been making special efforts to seek out new small businesses run by minorities through participation in regional trade conferences and follow-up vendor interviews.

Here's just one example of how the program works: Union Carbide's Bound Brook, New Jersey, chemical plant, has been coordinating a two-year contract for pencils—$20,000 worth—manufactured by the Blackfeet Indian Writing Company of Browning, Montana, near Glacier National Park. As its name suggests, this is a company run by Indians—and it is delivering a high-quality product.

Which all goes to prove the point that companies run by minorities can play a part in the American economy—and what's more can perform admirably when they get the right break!
